—, Esq; at his Lodgings in —— Street.

SIR,

PHYSICIANS have always great Hopes of their Patients, when from a State of Inſenſibility they are rous'd to a juſt Apprehenſion of their Danger. I congratulate you on your ſo frankly owning that you do not believe a Word of the Miniſter's Speech being his; and that you are convinc'd the publiſhing of it was an Artifice, which every Party is too ready to uſe, tho' there is nothing they would be more thought to deſpiſe. But you are ſtill, it ſeems, of Opinion, that the Second Part of the Pamphlet is a very extraordinary Performance; that it contains ſomething more than Prejudice and Declamation; and that I would not give myſelf ſo much Trouble about it, if I did not think ſo as well as you. Alas, Sir, theſe People ſo confound your Underſtanding, that you really miſapprehend yourſelf as well as me. My Concern is not about the Piece but for you; and therein, indeed, my Concern is ſo great, that it will not ſuffer me to waſte Time in Compliments, but obliges me to anſwer the firſt Queſtion you ask, which is What I really think of it? In few Words then, Sir, as I am thoroughly ſatisfied the Firſt Speech was a Fiction, ſo I am convinc'd in my Conſcience that this is in reality what that was deſign'd to paſs for, the Harangue of a Factious Chief to his Chamber of Janiſaries, full of Abſurdity, Sedition and Treaſon, calculated for no other End than to diſturb our Publick Councils, diſtreſs the Government at this Critical Juncture, and propagate Diſaffection throughout the Nation.

As thorough-pac'd an Inſtrument of Faction as the Author of this Piece is, it ſeems his Conſcience roſe in his Throat at the very Entrance of his Work, and oblig'd him to begin his Speech with Stuttering. He ſaw the Abſurdity of a Private Man's pretending to dictate to the R——s of the Nation, and therefore after a little Hemming and Hawing, expreſſing as much, he tells his Independents, that they are a new Sort of Independents, aſſociated for the Defence of themſelves, bound to take no Step but according to a joint Reſolution. Good God, how forcible a Thing is Truth! it will burſt out, it ſeems, if it carries a Man's Teeth before it! The only Colour your Actions can receive is, that they are the Effect of Sentiment, and that you act according to your Underſtandings, and your Chief here tells you, that this will not do; that you muſt act in Concert, move in a Body, and follow your Leaders: That is, in plain Engliſh, Independents is a good Name, and therefore you may continue to wear it; but that notwithſtanding all this, you muſt be to all Intents and Purpoſes a FACTION. After ſo modeſt, ſo conſiſtent a Setting out, had he not Reaſon to give you Hopes. That Integrity and Common Senſe will, in the End, get the better of Sophiſtry and Guilt. GOD grant they may!

In one Thing he is ſincere, he tells you plainly WHO you have to contend with; and that tho' you ſhould embaraſs the Miniſter and his Friends, yet there is Somebody elſe to deal with, and that it becomes you to remember, how difficult it is to prevail with Obſtinacy and Self-Will, even to make Proviſion for their own Safety. Such is the Character your Orator affords a Prince whoſe Juſtice and Honour his Enemies durſt never queſtion, who for his Mildneſs and Love of Liberty ought to be the Delight of his People, and whoſe Obſtinacy and Self-Will conſiſts in nothing more than his not being drawn into a Bargain and Sale of Power at his Acceſſion, nor ſuffering himſelf in a Courſe of Years to be whiſper'd out of his Senſes, ſo far as to give up his Servants to their Enemies, for no other Cauſe than their Fidelity to his and their Country's Service. There was all the Reaſon in the World to believe, that a Man who ſet out ſo well would proceed better: Your Orator tranſcends our Hopes, for as he flings off his Loyalty here, immediately after he tramples upon Juſtice, to ſhew what he and his Aſſociates are reſolv'd to do when they come to Lord it over both Prince and People.

As abſurd as his Notion is of Independents under Direction, that is, Independents in Dependency, yet he purſues it cloſe, and aſſures you that your being indefatigable ſignifies nothing unleſs you are unanimous, that a Second Diſunion would be fatal to the Oppoſition; but that the Tories amongſt you may not take this too much to heart, he is ſo kind as to drop Words of Comfort immediately after this Rebuke. I chuſe, ſays he, rather to forget than reflect on what is paſt. Good Lord, how gentle our Patriot is while he has no Power!—— But, Sir, let me ask you——— Are you ſure, in caſe of a Turn he would remember to forget?—— In the mean time reflect a little. You TORIES upon that Occaſion (for, I think, as yet you are not aſhamed of that Name) acted like true Independents; you deſerted your Prejudices to follow your Principles; you avowed this publickly, you gloried in it,——— and will you now be aſham'd of it? Will you eat your Words, as this Man bids you, will you forget your Honour, that the Patriots may lay aſide their Reſentments; will you be bullied today by thoſe who t'other Day ſaid you were brib'd?— No; except a very few you are another Sort of Men, and will, I dare ſay, act in another Manner. You have hitherto given the Publick and your Conſtituents juſt Reaſon to believe that you are not govern'd by Hopes or Fears, by a Deſire of outing others, or a Thirſt of ſwallowing large Draughts of Power yourſelves, and therefore the Argument he offers to enforce this ſlaviſh Doctrine belongs not to you but to others.——— 'You are, 'ſays he, all Sufferers alike; you all groan under the 'ſame Yoke; hearken then to the Voice of Reaſon, and 'adminiſter no more Food to Cavil, Debate, and Miſun'derſtanding, till THE COMMON ENEMY is ſubdued.'— Right Catiline! the very Language thy Predeceſſor us'd, when he would have deſtroy'd Rome;——— had not Cicero ſav'd it.

When your Orator imagin'd he had talk'd you out of your Senſes and chid you out of your Principles, he next opens to you what he calls expreſsly a Brief of your Grievances, and what is equally aſtoniſhing and traiterous, he aſcribes them all to the Proteſtant Succeſſion. Having ſaid this, I am oblig'd to produce his Words, to prove that the Suggeſtion is not my own, to demonſtrate the true Views of the Oppoſition, and to do what your Speechmaker has left undone, to leave you without Doubts as to what you are doing. Be not afraid, Sir, to uſe your own Underſtanding, to apprehend Words in their natural Signification, and to allow that Meaning to a Paragraph which it evidently bears. In ſhort, be honeſt, be Independent, be a TORY, and you cannot avoid being ſhock'd at what he ſays. His Words are theſe.

'We are next to caſt our Eyes on the State of the 'Nation; a moſt affl cting, a moſt aſtoniſhing Proſpect! 'Not many Years ago we were the Envy, the Terror, 'and the Admiration of the foremoſt Nations of Europe; 'at preſent we are become the Pity, the Contempt, and 'Scorn of the meaneſt: At home impoveriſh'd, embar'raſs'd, and divided; Abroad miſtruſted, cajoll'd, me'nac'd, abandon'd, and betray'd; in Peace without Pro'tection, in Arms without Succeſs; and tho' ſtill able 'to face all Oppoſers, tho' put to the full Expence of the 'moſt vigorous Meaſures, our Swords padlock'd, and our 'Hands tied by a FOREIGN CONCERN, which by expreſs 'Stipulation we have nothing to do with, and which has 'already coſt us, all Articles conſider'd, as much again as 'it is worth.'

I might remark to you upon this Occaſion, that this Pamphlet was publiſh'd but a few Days before the State of the Nation was to be conſider'd in a great Aſſembly. I might obſerve, that ſuch a Method of foreſtalling Debates is equally irreconcileable to Reaſon and our Conſtitution. I might tell you, that the bare producing this Paragraph might excuſe all Anſwers, but that I chuſe to talk in another Strain. You ſee, Sir, that here is not a Word ſaid of the Miniſter, nothing mention'd of the Views of him or of his Friends, who certainly have no foreign Concerns; but the Nation is repreſented as abſolutely, irretrievably undone, for the ſake of a foreign Concern, which is his ——'s. I leave you to judge, Sir, of Decency, of the Conſequences, and of the Intent of this Declaration, and to reconcile them if you can to the Profeſſions made by your Party at another Place. This is your Concern not mine, it is the Concern of every Man of your Party who will paſs for an honeſt Man or a good Subject, as I will immediately ſhew you.

For, Sir, this Attack upon the ——, like the many Attacks that have been made upon his Servants, is abſolutely without Proof. The Deſcription he has given us of our own Nation is far beyond the Truth; and where there is any Shadow of Reality in what he ſays, it ought, as I ſhall hereafter prove, to be charg'd not on the Conduct of the Friends of the Adminiſtration, but of his own. This however will never juſtify the cruel Inſinuation, or rather the open Inſult on the ——. But perhaps you will ſay that the Fact is notorious.——— I beg your Pardon, Sir, for ſuch a Suppoſition,— but he who will ſupport this Pamphlet, muſt not be aſham'd to ſay any Thing.——In Anſwer, I can truly ſay that it is not notorious, that the falſe, that the contrary is moſt certainly notorious, that the Electorate of Hanover has been lately, very lately, in very great Danger, not for its own Sake, but for that of Great Britain, nor is yet out of Danger. Its Inhabitants are at this Hour as much expoſed to the Arms of France as to the Hatred of B——. As to the Neutrality, it was a Meaſure no way concern'd this Nation; and of this the fulleſt Satisfaction has been given. But ſome Men are reſolved never to be ſatisfied; they acquieſce in one Place, and then run and make an Outcry in another.

Your Orator deſcends next to Particulars, thro' which as I have Leiſure I ſhall be careful to follow him; that is to ſay, I ſhall follow him in Facts, and ſhall endeavour to wipe off his Colourings; I ſhall make his Miſrepreſentations evident, and force you, whether you are willing or not, to ſee the Truth. In the mean time, I dare venture to aſſure you, that he has not the leaſt Ground for exulting as he does, and that your Faction is far from being ſo ſtrong as he would make you believe. The Friends of the Adminiſtration, while they preſerve their Innocence, will never loſe their Spirits. They have done nothing but what is agreeable to Conſcience and the Laws, and therefore they are not either aſhamed to own what they have done, or afraid to defend it. They expect in a B— S—, Coolneſs, Impartiality and Patience; they hope to be heard, and they are in no doubt of being juſtified; they have therefore no Thoughts of carrying their Appeals elſewhere. They dare truſt you Gentlemen even with this Speech tinkling in your Ears, but they ſcorn to follow the Practices of your Chiefs, who ſeek to intimidate their Judges by applying to the Populace. In ſhort, Sir, they have been ſo long faithful to the King, the Laws, and their Country, that they deſire rather to fall with the Conſtitution, nay and to be buried under it, than to live and riſe upon its Ruins.

I am,

Your Friend and Servant,

The Author intended to have wrote a ſhort Supplement, pointing out the Erroneouſneſs of ſome ſpurious Accounts which have been lately publiſh'd; but as the above Hiſtory will clearly ſhew how much the Publick has been impoſed upon in that Reſpect, he thinks it quite unneceſſary to trouble his Readers by confuting Accounts ſo trifling and abſurd, that they hardly deſerve to be mention'd.

The Univerſal Family MEDICINE,

Still more and more fam'd, after upwards of 15 Years Succeſs with the Publick,

Is ſold by the Author's Appointment, by Mr. King, Printſeller, in the Poultry, near the Royal Exchange; by Mr. Martin, Hoſier, at the Sign of the Duke of Cumberland, in Gresham Alley, near Leiceſter Fields; by Mr. Thomas Prentice, Poſtmaſter of Bungey in Suffolk; and by Mr. Hilyard, Bookſeller in York; at 3 s. the Bottle Retail.

It is to be taken at any Seaſon of the Year, and is ſo very agreeable to Young and Old, that Children take it without Trouble, a few Drops being a Doſe; and ſo gentle, that it weakens not the moſt Aged: In it is a ſafe and effectual Alterative, to be taken in a leſs Doſe than where Purging is neceſſary; an Excellence inherent in this Medicine, which is a ſingular Property well known to the Learned, to be in ſome Cathartick Medicines.

It is in particular,

A Certain and infallible Cure for the

SCURVY, tho' of the longeſt Standing, and attended with the moſt aggravated Circumſtances (a Diſtemper ſo common to Engliſh People, that not one in a thouſand is wholly exempt from it, and great Numbers are ſorely afflicted with it) being a cordial Elixir, peculiarly adapted to that Diſeaſe in all its Forms of appearing, from the ſlighteſt itching Humour in the Blood, to its utmoſt or laſt Efforts on human Nature.

For it is a true Specifick Cordial, that perfectly cures that Diſtemper by gentle Evacuation, by Stool and Urine, the only ſure and effectual Way perfectly to cure the Scurvy, (and prevent Relapſes (notwithſtanding what may be dreamt to the contrary) the Truth of which is witneſſed to daily, by the many Thouſands that have taken this Medicine. It ſo powerfully rectifies the Blood and Juices, that ſcrophulous Caſes are alſo ſpeedily cured by it; and all Spots, Blotches, Pimples, &c. on the Skin, are quickly and entirely taken off, the Patients made lively and briſk, many chronick Diſeaſes prevented, and a due State of Health ſecured.

It removes all Pain in the Stomach, helps Digeſtion, opens Obſtructions, and is peculiarly ſerviceable to Maids inclined to, or troubled with the Green Sickneſs. 'Tis the beſt Medicine in the World to deſtroy Worms in Children or grown People, and prevent their Return; for it ſcours away all thoſe ropy viſcid Humours which breed them in their Bowels, and is ſo well adapted to all Conſtitutions, that it is deſervedly eſteemed both in City and Country, the moſt general Family Medicine that ever was known to preſerve Health, and hinders no Buſineſs or Recreation.

Good Allowance is given Wholeſale by Mr. King for ready Money to Country Shopkeepers, &c. to ſell again. This Medicine will keep many Years in any Climate.

The Directions given with it are large and full.
